Goodlettsville Residents Can Sign up for the No Knock Registry

DO NOT KNOCK

As of May 1st, 2019, Goodlettsville residents can now place their address on the No Knock Registry. The Goodlettsville Board of Commissioners passed the No Knock ordinance in order to address an ongoing issue facing residents.

By signing up for the registry, it will prohibit people going door to door from knocking on your door. This registry applies to all solicitation, including without limitation, all activities that are solicitation of newspaper, magazine subscriptions, or sale of products or services. The registry does not apply to any person going door to door that you personally invite onto your property. Vendors must inspect the list and are prohibited from approaching any residence on the registry, or face a fine of fifty dollars ($50.00) per offense. If a solicitor does knock on your door and your address is on the list, please call the City of Goodlettsville's Police Department Non-Emergency number at 615.851.5111.

City of Goodlettsville office staff will verify addresses. If your address is outside the corporate city limits of Goodlettsville, we will be unable to add your address to this registry.

Once your address is added to the list, it will remain until removed by the occupant upon request.

Sign up for the No Knock Registry by visiting www.goodlettsville.gov.

For additional information, please call the Customer Service Center at 615-851-2200.

Electric shock drowning is real!

Never swim near a boat, marina, or launching ramp.

Electrical current could put you at risk of electric shock drowning.

To retrieve a person in the water: reach, throw, and row but don't go.

Talk to marina owners or operators about the danger of ESD.

Ask your marina operator to prohibit swimming at their facility, post signs.
